

NEW YORK GRAPES
NIPPED BY FROSTGREAT DAMAGE DONE BY THE FREEZE UP.

Loss About Dunkirk N. Y. Alone Will Aggregate $200,000—Ice a Quarter
Of An Inch Thick at Galesburg, Ill.
The Blight Reached Into Nearly Every Northern State.

Dunkirk, N. Y., May 14.—The damage to the grape crop by frost in this county will aggregate $200,000. (Galesburg, Ill., May 14.—It was calm last night, but the freeze was a hard one. Ice a quarter of an inch thick was formed, and corn and gardens were nipped.

Chicago, May 14.—The present cold snap is one of the most general ever experienced at this time of year, extending as it does from Nebraska to the Atlantic coast. The aggregate damage to crops and fruit will be enormous. The grape-growing section of New York state was one of the heaviest sufferers, the injury to that interest alone being estimated by one of the largest growers at $2,000,000.

The damage in Illinois doesn't seem to have been very severe yet. Some injury has been inflicted around Harvard, Princeton, Lacon, Anna, Mendota, Rockford and Belleville.

Snow fell in Wisconsin at Depere, Manitowish, Madison, Chippewa Falls, Oshkosh, Appleton, Wausau, Palmyra and other places. Marinette, Bayfield and La Crosse report killing frosts and much damage inflicted.

Michigan practically is under snow, nearly every dispatch received reporting a more or less severe fall. Crops and fruit were considerably damaged in many places. At Traverse City railroad travel was blocked by trees blown across the tracks by the wind. The peach belt suffered little if any.

Indiana got a touch of the snow-storm, several places reporting light frosts. Around Muncie and Valparaiso much fruit and garden stuff was killed. Much apprehension was felt at the prospects of frost which prevailed.

From Iowa comes a story of damage to fruit about Boone which amounts to total destruction. Potatoes and grapes were destroyed in Greene, Calhoun, Carroll and Guthrie counties. Many other places send similar reports.

In Ohio, throughout the central portion, vegetables were killed and fruits met a like fate in the northern part of the state. Damage to wheat and corn is not believed to have been great.

Corn, fruit and garden vegetation sustained considerable damage in Minnesota, but the main crops were not affected except in a few instances.

Garden stuff and fruit in the northern tier of counties in Missouri were nipped, but the damage in other parts of the state was inconsiderable.

Though the storm on the lake was particularly severe few disasters are reported, and no loss of life is known, unless a rumor that a vessel was seen to capsize and sink five miles north of Racine proves true. The schooner J. B. Kitchen is ashore on Middle Island, near Alpena, Mich.; the Quikstep is on the beach near Sheboygan, Wis., and fears are felt for the safety of the Millard at Alpena. A vessel thought to be the Reindeer is ashore near Black River, Mich.; an unknown schooner is at anchor, dismasted, off South Milwaukee, and a dispatch from Sheboygan says a large steamer has been seen apparently disabled off Centerville. A report from St. Joseph, Mich., says an unknown yacht is ashore near that place. The steamer Puritan from Chicago for St. Joseph had a narrow escape from foundering off the latter port in the storm.

G. A. R. AT BLOOMINGTON.

Exercises of the Encampment Begin
This Afternoon.

Bloomington, Ill., May 14.—The town is filled with visitors to the twenty-ninth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic for the Department of Illinois. Interest centers in the choice of a department commander for the ensuing year, the selection of the town for the next encampment, and the probable action of the army on the Confederate monument question. Gen. John McNulta and Gen. W. V. Powell are leading candidates for the head of the department. Selection of the place for holding the next encampment hinges largely on the outcome of the vote on the commander. There are four towns in the field for the honor, Cairo, Danville, Quincy and Springfield. The fight is thought to be between Cairo and Danville, with the chances in favor of the first named town.

A lively discussion will surely take place in the encampment over the Confederate monument craze. It is held by many Grand Army members that the time is ripe for Union veterans to openly denounce the fad, and they propose to vigorously protest against the exercises in Oakwoods Cemetery, Chicago, Decoration day. For the first time in the history of the organization the Illinois division of the Sons of Veterans is holding its encampment in conjunction with the Grand Army, on the invitation of the latter. The cold weather prevailing has dampened enthusiasm. The city is well decorated with red, white and blue bunting, but the severe winds which tear off the banners in exposed spots have thus far prevented any attempt at elaborate effects. This afternoon the encampment proper opens with a big parade in which nearly a thousand veterans and Sons of Veterans are expected to be in line. In the evening there will be two big campfires at Turner Hall and the Grand Opera House. Wednesday morning a business session of the Grand Army will be held, and the afternoon and evening will be given up to campfires and receptions. Thursday the selection of a Department Commander will be made and the place of holding the next encampment fixed upon. The session is expected to continue until Friday morning.

J. McCoy, of San Francisco, and David McConaughy, of Madras, India, responded.

TROOPS PREVENT TROUBLE.

New Men Working in the Pocahontas
Mines Under Military Protection.

Bluefields, W. Va., May 14.—The condition of the strike is unchanged. Gov. O'Farrell, of Virginia, is still in Pocahontas. The troops will remain. The governor says an outbreak has only been prevented by their presence and that all men who wish to work in the mines will be protected. The miners are conferring and some overtures will be made looking to an adjustment this week. The Southwest Virginia Coal Company is increasing its output daily and new men go to work to-day. New men are highly incensed at the position of Gov. O'Farrell. Military surveillance exists over all visiting miners from West Virginia in Pocahontas.

Strike Takes a Serious Turn.

Philadelphia, May 14.—The railway strike at Carbondale has taken a more serious turn than was expected. The line was still blockaded last night by strikers and their sympathizers. The strikers refused to yield, and the new men are arriving to take their places.

London, May 14.—The Times publishes a dispatch from Kobe saying the fact of the Japanese government yielding to the representations of Russia, France, and Germany in regard to the Liao Tung Peninsula and agreeing to restore that territory to China has greatly excited and intensely disappointed the Japanese nation. It is added the suspension of newspapers continues and that the Japanese ministers and the foreign legations are strictly guarded.

St. Petersburg, May 14.—The Chinese legation here has been informed the convention for fixing the indemnity to Japan for her relinquishment of the Liao Tung Peninsula will be shortly signed at the Tokio.

Magato, the Paraguan chief, has dismissed the Transvaal government commission from the country. The Mantatez tribes are massing at their different strongholds. They are armed with modern rifles. Their ammunition is obtained from the Portuguese. Gen. Joubert will order a command of 20,000 whites and natives and the campaign opens immediately. The seat of war is 400 miles north of Johannesburg.

Cholera at Mecca.

Cairo, May 14.—The report of another outbreak of cholera at Mecca is confirmed from official sources. Cholera prevails at Mecca and in the villages frequented by the caravans of pilgrims in El Hejaz, [the land of pilgrimage]. Police guards were maintained at the mill gates.

Lost a Thousand Regulars.

Salcedo, who was on his way to attack Gomez and mistook our band for his. We numbered 2,700 under Col. Rodriguez. The Spanish came on quickly but broke before our fire. Twice again they tried the same game, part endeavoring to secure our left flank. After their third failure we charged and again routed them. The Spaniards were the first to break the Spanish ranks. Our killed and wounded numbered 252. The Spanish killed, wounded and missing, was over 1,000. We have learned from a prisoner just brought in that Gen. WINTER WHEAT AREA.

Report to the Washington Agricultural Department.

Washington, May 14.—Reports to the agricultural department from its European agents indicate that the area of winter wheat in France is considerably smaller than last year's and spring sowings are curtailed. In Great Britain the prospect for grazers is considered excellent, while in Germany the agrarian interests are supposed to be despondent, owing to the injury to rye and wheat, caused by unfavorable weather. Resowing a large acreage in Belgium and Holland kept the farmers there busy during March. Winter sowing has suffered in most of the continental countries, and considerable damage is admitted in Spain and Hungary. Spring field work was in arrears throughout Italy, but good crops are expected. Excellent harvests are also promised in Algeria and Smyrna.

CONFIDENCE RESTORED.

Over 100,000 Pittsburg Workmen Receive an Increase in Wages.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 14.—The Times prints dispatches from all points in western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio, and West Virginia, on the business situation. These dispatches show that business is booming at every point heard from, and that confidence in the future seems fully restored. Not since the spring of 1892 has such activity been noticed. The revival is not confined to any one line of industry, but all classes of manufacture and trade feel the good effect. Old works that have been idle for two years or more are now running. Plants that have been operating on part time have increased working forces, and numerous firms have advanced the price of labor. In the vicinity of Pittsburg alone, over 10,000 workmen received an advance in wages during the past week.

W.R. BROWN'S DEATH SADDENED MILTON

HE WAS DROWNED WHILE ALONE ON THE LAKE.

Friends Did Not Feel Alarmed At His Absence at First, But When He Did Not Return Search Was Made—Shopiere Man Called Home—County News.

MILTON, May 13.—The remains of the late Will R. Brown, whose death by drowning was noted last week, arrived here Monday morning, accompanied by his father, Charles N. Brown of Madison, and Floyd Coon. The particulars in regard to his death are as follows. On Tuesday of last week the young man started for the town nearest their camp ground, which was on the bank of a small lake near Devil's lake, N. D., taking with him some skins and intending to bring back some provisions. In company with D. E. Brown, he rowed across the lake, and on landing, remarked to his companion, who was going to return around the lake shore and hunt, that he had forgotten the address to whom the skins were to be sent and guessed he would return to camp, and that was the last time that he was seen alive. He did not visit the town, and must have been drowned on his way back to camp. Not returning at dark his companions concluded that he had decided to spend the night in town and felt no alarm but when he did not put in an appearance Wednesday, Messrs Floyd Coon, D. E. Brown and C. G. Crandall, who were camping with him, were frightened, and began searching, which was carefully prosecuted until Friday morning when his body was found lying in six feet of water, within sight of their camp ground. The skins, boat and oars were discovered Thursday on the lake shore. Deceased was a member of the sophomore class in the college and of the Philomathean society. He was a bright student and a lover of natural history, being a skillful taxidermist. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Seventh Day Baptist church, Rev. E. M. Dunn officiating, assisted by President Whitford and others. His classmates and student friends were present in a body. On Tuesday morning the remains were taken to Hebron, Ill., where he was laid to rest beside his mother. Shipments from this station last week include two cars of hay shipped by Bramhall & Field, and one car of oats by Fetherston Brothers. In freights, two cars of lumber, one of coal and two of tobacco. The remains of Miss Van Horn, who died Thursday, were taken to Welton, Iowa, for burial on Friday. Brief services were held at the house. The "Miltons" did not play a game Friday as expected, owing to lack of a contesting club and rain. A party of serenaders entertained a number of our citizens Thursday evening, with some charming music. A. C. Dunn, freight agent of the Union Pacific railway company, at Sioux City, Iowa, was in town Saturday. The Telephone and Junction News got out extras in regard to the death of Will R. Brown, Saturday afternoon. A small force of 1,000 packing '04 at the Soverhill warehouse. L. B. Root of Whitewater, was a visitor here Friday. Thursday was the hottest day ever known here so early in the season. Harry Holmes is riding a new wheel. It is a high grade "Spurian." B. H. SHOPIERE MAN CALLED HOME.

Job Jones Finally Succumbs to an Attack of Rheumatic Fever.

SHOPIERE, May 14.—Job Jones passed away at his home on May 6, after an illness of but four weeks, with rheumatic fever. Mr. Jones was born in Rockport, Ohio, September 12, 1852; married Miss Addie Jolemon August 22, 1875. He moved to Turtleville, Wis., June 11, 1877, where they lived about seven years, and then moved upon the farm owned by C. W. Stark, where he died. He leaves a wife and four children; one child dying a few years ago. Mr. Jones was a man who will be greatly missed by all. ALL FAMILIES WANT THE GAZETTE PRIZE

BABY CONTEST IS GETTING VERY SPIRITED.

Five Hundred Dollars Worth of Building and Loan Association Stock Is a Nice Nest Egg For a Three Year Old and the Vote Between Several Contestants is Very Close.

The time is not far distant now, when some Janesville baby will get The Gazette's $500 prize. The ballot closes June 1, and then the prize will be awarded. Five hundred dollars is a nice sum for a baby to begin life with. Put it out at interest and when the babe becomes the man or woman, enough cash for a start in life is available.

Do not think that you can sit down and wait for that $500 to come to your home. The ballots are piling up rapidly, for, naturally enough, $500 is enough to encourage every father and mother in Janesville to strive for that prize for their "ownest own." Competition is getting strong as the time begins to narrow down and in this case the old adage, "everything comes to he who waits" is far from true. It should be "everything comes to he who hustles." The Gazette has been asked many times to publish the vote as it stands, but this would not be fair. It would tell Brown that Jones was leading him, and The Gazette wishes to treat all hands alike. However, the count's close between several contestants up to date, and, like everything else, the "early bird," etc., applies.

The Gazette's offer is this: The baby receiving the highest number of votes will be presented with $500 worth of stock in the Rock County Building, Loan & Savings Association.

It will buy an education.
It will buy a building lot.
It will buy a piano and the lessons necessary to play upon it.
It is more than many people are able to save in a life time.

Of course all the mothers and fathers want it for their babe. How to get it is told below:

The polls opened on May 1st and will remain open until June 1. The baby that receives the most ballots in that time will receive a certificate calling for these five shares of stock. There are no dues to be paid, no assessments to be met, no installments to provide for. The stock stands for $500 in cash and on its maturity, which will be in nine and one-third years, the money will be ready. The prize is a handsome one—it is well worth winning and the conditions of the ballot are as follows:

From March 1 until June 1, a coupon will be printed in each issue of The Gazette.

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

The baby who receives the largest number of votes will receive five shares of stock in the Rock County Building & Savings Association, cash value, $500 at maturity.

The contest will close June 1 at 9 p. m., and the stock will be delivered as soon as the count of votes is completed.

Any non-subscriber who will subscribe for The Gazette and pay in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.
New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.
New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.
New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is also entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day and vote in the regular manner.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday and start it again Tuesday and claim the premium offered.

No votes can be transferred from one candidate to another after being registered in this office.

Candidates must not be more than three years of age March 1, 1895, and must live in Janesville.

THE BALLOT.

The Publishers of "The Janesville Gazette" will give 5 Shares of stock in the Rock County Building, Loan & Savings Association to the Baby who receives the largest number of ballots.

BIG PICNIC PLANS ABOUT COMPLETE

THE MODERN WOODMEN WILL HAVE A GALA WEEK.

Members of Florence Camp Hope to Get the Big Gathering For Janesville Next Year—Meeting Held Last Night to Make Arrangements—Some of the Events.

Members of Florence Camp, Modern Woodmen of America, met at their hall last night, to make arrangements for attending the annual picnic of the order at Madison, June 6. The local members are also planning to have the picnic held in Janesville next year if possible, and they will leave no stone unturned to achieve that end. The annual picnic is an event that is looked forward to with great interest by members of the order in northern Illinois or southern Wisconsin especially. It is a great event, and this year promises to be better than ever before. The citizens of Madison are arranging for the entertainment of 25,000 people from abroad; have made a rate of one fare for all within a radius of 100 miles of Madison who wish to attend, the tickets to be sold any time after midnight following June 4 and good to return the day after the picnic. Those living beyond the 100 mile limit can obtain special rates by application to the roads early enough, and if too late can purchase to the 100 mile limit and then get a one-fare ticket, saving much. A fine program has been arranged, which includes a procession of ten thousand to fifteen thousand Woodmen in line with thirty to forty bands of music, escorted by the governor's guard, of Madison, the crack Wisconsin company of the National Guard, floats representing wood and industrial scenes.

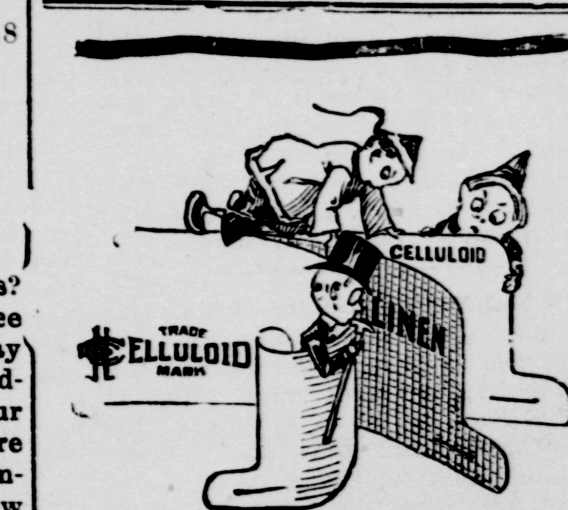

Many Amusements Arranged.

There will be speaking by prominent people, excursions to various points of interest, an exhibition by the local fire department, exhibition drill by the guardsmen, tumbling and turning in the largest gymnasium in the world, that of the Wisconsin state university. The day will be crowded with events and made one long to be remembered by visitors. Inasmuch as many visitors will be present during the day previous Wednesday, it has been decided to have a regatta on Lake Monona, which will include eight-oared gig races between four class teams from the state university; eight-oared shell race between three crews, inter-fraternity race, inter-literary society boat race, sailing and paddle canoe races, swimming race, tub race, water tournament, water polo, and concluding with an oar salute by the varsity crew. Friday following the picnic there will be a fine game of ball in the inter-collegiate league, and other attractions. The week will be distinctly Woodmen's gala week, with the sessions of the head camp to add to the importance of the four days in the Badger capital. Every arrangement has been made to make the visitors welcome. The state house park will be given up to the guests, and Governor Upham is expected to join with the mayor in making the visitors feel at home.

FEW KNOW ABOUT THE SHAKERS OF MOUNT LEBANON.

We may not accept their peculiar religious views. We cannot enter into the spirit of their sacrifices, and therefore we do not study their habits of life.

It is not necessary to believe as they do, but we can and do respect their sincerity of purpose and the honor and uprightness which mark all their business dealings.

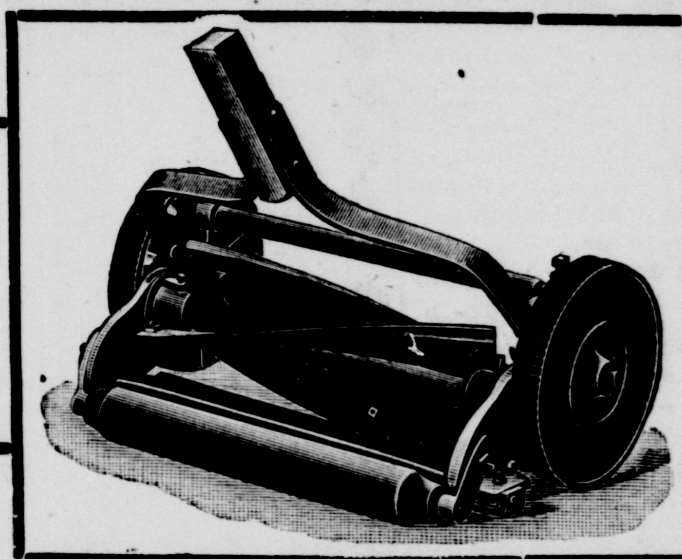

In one particular the Shakers excel all other classes of men. This is in the cultivation of medicinal herbs and plants. They have made it a study for more than one hundred years. They are also expert in extracting from them their characteristic essences and medicinal virtues.

This is their peculiar industry. There lives have been devoted to it. By this they are supported. They excel in this branch as do the Monks of the order of St. Benedict with their famous liqueur call "Benedictine."

Now, this life long study on the part of the Shakers has been in vain. They have accomplished much good. Their medicinal extracts and cordials are known throughout the world.

The shaker Digestive Cordial is probably the most useful medicine ever given to the public. It is not a cure for all diseases; it doesn't pretend to be; but one disease it will cure; and that is indigestion. It is not pretended that it will cure anything else and a sufferer has not long to wait to see the result. The effect is immediate. Almost the first dose will give relief, and, if continued a permanent cure will follow. The Shaker motto is:—"Prove all things and hold fast that which is good." For this reason the Shakers put into the hands of the retail druggists who sell their remedy small trial bottles, which can be had for ten cents each, so that for this small sum the reader can ascertain whether it is adapted to his case.

IRREDEEMABLE PAPER.

Many of the free silver men who discuss so glibly the benefits of free and unlimited coinage, would do well to look far enough into the future to see where the nation would land if their hopes and ambitions were realized. The act of 1873, or the fact that previous to that time silver was able to stand alone, has nothing to do with the stubborn facts that confront the metal in 1895, but supply and demand have everything to do with it, and the supply is far in excess of the demand. If this statement is doubted a visit to the national capital will convince the most skeptical that it is true. Three hundred and sixty-nine million dollars piled up like canned fruit in the treasury vaults, that no one has any use for; congressmen don't want it; the people don't want it; in fact nobody wants it. If the government had to dispose of it today, it is worth simply the price of bullion; no more and no less; To be sure it is collateral for $369,000,000 worth of silver-bearing notes, that purport to be worth their face value, but are actually worth the value of the collateral. If a bank should do business in the same reckless manner, loaning two dollars for one on sureties, it would only be a matter of time before collapse would be inevitable; and yet there are people who are using every effort to place the government in a position where this class of securities may be multiplied indefinitely.

It is not at all strange that such methods are denounced as dishonest. The country is already flooded with paper of fictitious value, and nothing but the honor of the nation prevents repudiation. As it is, gold has been withdrawn from circulation almost entirely during the past six months. Pass the free coinage act and gold would be at a premium in less than twenty four hours. These conditions may be charged to Wall street. The gold bugs single standard men, or any other cause, that they exist as stubborn facts is evident to the most disinterested observer. Law cannot change them any more than it can compel men to take their pay in silver coin, and carry it around in a grip sack. When England or any other foreign country invests in our securities, she has a perfect right to dictate the kind of money behind them. If we were dealing with Mexico today, we would decide to take our pay in Mexican silver dollars, not because they do not contain more silver than the American dollar, but because they are only worth 45 cents in the American market. For the same sensible reason England refuses to take our American silver dollars. A silver treasury note is the promise of the government to pay the face of it in silver, it passes for face value in this country by toleration. If the government redeems it in gold, it pays a premium, that should be charged to profit and loss, of the difference between the price of silver and gold bullion. In other words, the 369 million dollars of silver notes outstanding today are worth fifty cents on a dollar, paid in anything but silver coin, which no one wants. The nation cannot afford to issue an unlimited amount of this kind of paper.

DUNN BROS.
 Killed By Frost.

Vegetation was really injured by last night's freeze. We are of the opinion that somebody's trade if left uncovered will show the effect of the Manitoba visitation. We left our trade out all last winter, and now it booms as never before, increased vitality seems to be the outcome. Our prices, our goods, our method of selling the stuff is making us friends every day. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

THE TOWN TALK OF A DAY.

OUR trade tells us what they have seen around town, the curiosities, the relics of bygone days. They talk of ancient shoemaking of old timers. We listen without interest to their story, and then sell them at less than they were offered the plunder for. We surely have the only sized up stock in the city. New goods with all sizes and widths. Don't take what some calf says fits you. Come to us. We have what you want and leave it to your judgment. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

We don't wish to dictate to you where you should do your buying of hardware, tinware, etc., but we wish to impress upon your mind that we will save you 66 2/3 cents on every dollar you invest with us as we have fortunately come into possession of the finest line of hardware of all kinds ever seen in this town, being packed for shipment now. Only a few days more. Watch for opening announcement. Lowell Hardware Co.

PARENTS, come in and bring the children. We will shoe you all, and you will go away happy. We don't sell all shop-worn goods, but all new goods, and you can get a bargain, as we have an overstock and must reduce it. Consequently prices drop. Every shoe bought here warranted. Lloyd & Son.

WERE it possible to put our make of buggies alongside of others that are being offered for sale, no words would be necessary for us to sell. The comparison would do that. Look at those others; then try and carry in your eye until you see ours. We have no fear about you not buying from us. Wisconsin Carriage Top Co.

It won't cost you anything to look at those Staver & Abbott buggies, and hear them explained. When we guarantee, that guarantee is good and we sell all Staver & Abbott buggies on their reputation, quality and finish backed up with our guarantee. The prices we quote are a great factor in producing buyers. Lowell Hardware Co.

WE have enough children's tan shoes to shoe all the children in Janesville, and will give you cut prices as we have too many. These goods were bought before the raise and will be sold at a very low price for nice goods, lace or button, all sizes and widths. Lloyd & Son.

ALL hustle. One continual round of business. Blue packages so thick one can see nothing else. We are doing the shoe business, not "doing" customers either. Saving them 50 cents on every dollar they leave with us. Becker & Woodruff.

Why would he steal them when he can buy his shoes from us at 50 cents on the dollar. Foolish man. Had he seen the crowds of people in our store last Saturday he would no doubt have been numbered among them. Becker & Woodruff.

Nor home yet yet; busy packing and preparing for shipment. It is one of the largest and best stocks of general hardware ever brought to this town. Will be here and ready for sale some time this week. Lowell Hardware Co.

It isn't much of a trick to quote prices on goods, but it's quite another thing to make them good when customers come for the goods. We never quote anything not to be found in our store. Becker & Woodruff.

It's no trouble to sell our make of buggies. When one notices an array of buggies on the street, it's not hard to pick ours, they are so much superior looking in every respect. Wisconsin Carriage Top Co.

ALTHOUGH the day was dark and dreary and every minute gave evidence of a ten-foot snow or less, yet we had all we could do; it's impossible to keep people away from this sale; 50 cents on the dollar; no higher. Becker & Woodruff.

WHEN such representative citizens as we named yesterday recommend an article there is no question about it being the best. We never turn out a poor buggy. We sell them cheap but keep the quality up. Wisconsin Carriage Top Co.

LAST season belts were worn a great deal; but this season they are much more used, and the designs are much prettier. We have prepared for the occasion. See show window. F. C. Cook & Co.

ANY bug that gets in the way of "Dead Stuck" is a goner. Never know anything to equal it in killing insects. Just sprinkle near where they go and they die. Dunn Bros.

WE may not keep the best furniture, neither does anyone else, but we keep as good as anybody, and know we sell for less, for either cash or credit. Kimball.

No we don't "haft" to. We say we don't follow anybody, and we have our opinion of people who are trying to hang on to our coat tail. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

Look at our display of children's tan shoes in the windows at No. 57 West Milwaukee street? We can fit the children's feet and your pocketbook. Lloyd & Son.

No use to be bothered with bed bugs, roaches or any other kind of insects as long as we sell "Dead Stuck." One bottle will last an entire season. Dunn Bros.

SEE the list of property Dave Watt has advertised today. Some of the greatest bargains in the real estate line ever offered in this town.

COME in and we will show you a fine line of gent's tan shoes. All the leading styles and shapes. Lloyd & Son.

If you wish to see fine buggies at small prices, step into our buggy store on River street. Lowell Hardware Co.

THIRD WARD FOLK WANT SEWERS

A Public Meeting Was Held Last Night to Make Plans.

Third ward people want a system of sewers in that ward. Tired of talk and agitation, they now resolve to take the matter into their own hands for the purpose of ascertaining just what can be accomplished in the way of securing sewerage. A public meeting was held last evening in the old municipal court room in the court house, which organized by the election of C. S. Jackson as chairman and O. H. Brand as secretary. The meeting then discussed the sewerage question, and finally referred the matter to a committee consisting of A. E. Rich, V. H. Greenman and C. S. Jackson. The committee was instructed to ascertain the most feasible plan and best direction to take in constructing a sewer in order to accommodate the largest number, and to report at an adjourned meeting to be held at the court house next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The committee will follow as closely as possible the plans prepared by Engineer Lowth for a city sewerage system.

LAST NIGHT'S FROST DID MUCH DAMAGE

SMALL FRUIT AND "GARDEN TRUCK" SUFFER.

Reports From the Country Are To The Effect That Corn and Potatoes Were Nipped Off, While Grain Is Set Back Severely—Warmer Tomorrow.

A heavy frost visited all sections of Rock county last night and Saturday night, doing great damage to fruit, vegetables and early gardens. The Saturday night's freeze did not appear to be as damaging or as wide spread as that of last night. Self-registering thermometers this morning showed that the temperature had been down to 28 degrees during the night. The warm weather prevailing the first week of May, sent all kinds of vegetation along rapidly, so that small fruits, berries, and general "garden truck" were showing a rapid growth when the low temperature struck this section of the country. In the city great damage has resulted from the freeze. Ice formed at least an eighth of an inch thick in many parts of the city. Grapes, just in the fruiting stage, suffered most, and it is claimed that many were totally destroyed. All tender vegetables, not protected, were frozen down to the ground, including all garden vegetables, corn and potatoes.

Grain Is Set Back.

Similar reports come in from different parts of the county. Farmers claim, however, that grain, while it may be set back somewhat, will not be damaged much. Corn, which was just coming out of the ground, was bitten off close, as were also potatoes. The farmers say, however, that this is not fatal to either, although the potatoes, in cases where they were of considerable growth, will have to be replanted. One city farmer who has planted eighteen dollars worth of seed potatoes, says his plants are ruined, and that replanting will be necessary.

James McGowan, who resides on Milton avenue, has a half-acre devoted to choice strawberries, which the frost so ruined last night that he plowed up the ground today. Cherries, which promised an abundant crop, were destroyed, and in fact all kinds of fruit suffered, in many instances the damage being total.

Luckily for the farmers who depend on the products of their farms, the damage is not wholly irreparable, except in the destruction of the fruit and berry crop. The season is yet comparatively early, and much that has been destroyed can be replanted, especially corn, potatoes and gardens.

Frost Covered Much Territory.

Telegraph dispatches indicated that like damage by frost extended all over the northern, eastern and western states. In New York the fruit crop is ruined, the damage in that state being estimated at two million dollars.

E. P. Bostwick of Shopiere drove into the city at an early hour this morning, and reports that wet places in the roadway near his home were frozen enough to hold his buggy up. He could not believe this at first, and curiosity led him to get out and examine the ground, finding it frozen hard. Grapes, cherries, apples, strawberries, and small fruits and berries were all killed in his neighborhood by the freeze.

The official forecast, however, is more cheering today. It says: Forecast: Showers and warmer tonight and Wednesday.

The temperature as recorded by E. C. Burnham & Co. during the last twenty-four hours was as follows: 7 a. m. 35 above 1 p. m. 50 above 3 p. m. 50 above 5 p. m. 28 above Wind northeast.

MONROE TEACHERS WERE HERE

Nineteen Green County Teachers Visited Janesville on a Tour of Inspection.

A party of nineteen school teachers from Monroe, came to Janesville on an inspecting tour yesterday and to take in the sights about the city. A Wild West show struck Monroe yesterday, which so interested the children that the schools were closed to give the young folk an idea how they do things where the country is "wooly," and to examine the many fine points of the "bucking bronco." The teachers were given a day off and they spent it in Janesville. Superintendent Mayne showed them through the new high school building, which they pronounced a credit to any city. They returned home on the evening train.

They Raise $25 More for the Y. M. C. A. Making $70 In All.

Another $25.00 gift from the thoughtful circle of Kings' Daughters to the local Y. M. C. A., increases the gift to $70.00, it all being raised by their individual efforts. This should be a suggestion for other societies as the privilege is open to all and the investment is surely a lasting one, that will bring large returns.

POLICE KEPT BUSY BY THE BAD FOLK

CHICKEN STEALING AS ONE OF OF THE FINE ARTS.

Dealers Won't Buy Poultry of Strangers
Prairie Jack Sullivan and John Hart
Jailed For Going On a Tear—
Evansville Young Man Charged With Theft.

For some time past the chicken thief has been doing a flourishing business in Janesville and the surrounding territory. The latest victim is James Dillon who resides south of the city. Mr. Dillon was in the city today inquiring of the different poultry dealers if they had purchased a coop of chickens the day before. The different hotels and markets on the outskirts of the city, are offered poultry nearly every day by different people but they refuse to buy unless they know the seller, for in most instances the birds have been stolen. Two men stepped into Rohloff's markets yesterday and wanted to sell some fat hens. When the butcher asked to see them the men said they were home but they could bring them down the next day. The police are of the opinion that the stealing is being done by persons who live here.

Noisy Inebriates Jailed.

The police were notified yesterday afternoon that a couple of inebriated gentlemen were the monarchs of all they surveyed, and that their view of Dodge street was entirely unobstructed. Chief Police Acheson and Officer Hogan were soon upon the scene and recognized the gentlemen as John Sullivan, alias "Prairie Jack" and John Hart, two men intimately acquainted with the jail cells and the police court. With them were half a dozen young gentlemen from the country, who had strayed from the straight and narrow path, presumably through the persuasiveness of the two gentlemen aforementioned. The country lads received a fatherly spanking at the hands of the constabulary, while Mr. Hart and Mr. Sullivan were conducted to the common jail of the county to meditate, whereupon Dodge street, despite its suggestively active name, again became as quiet as its customary.

Bert Crawford, a 17-year old boy residing near Evansville, was arrested in La Crosse Friday last, charged with having broken into the Evansville grange hardware store a few nights previously, and taking therefrom a revolver and a dozen jack knives. The trial is set for May 26. The young man's parents are estimable people and have the sympathy of the entire community.

SUMMER GOWNS.

Velvet and Corduroy That Can Be Washed and Dried.

Corduroy, again very much worn, affords a large amount of wear and looks well to the end. It can be cleaned and dyed over and over again. For instance, a corduroy that begins by being cream colored may be cleaned once or twice, then dyed biscuit color, then brown and will look like a new gown each time if carefully adapted to the changing phases of fashion. The same may be said of velvet, which is very extensively used for fashionable dresses, capes and blouses. Quite a change has taken place of late with respect to cotton backed velvets. They are now worn by the smartest and best dressed women in Paris and London.

The new stamped velvets can scarcely be recommended to those who have to study economy, for the reason that the design, being produced by pressure, becomes easily effaced, which soon gives the velvet a shabby look.

All over openwork embroidery in batiste and nainsook forms some of the prettiest summer gowns. The goods are made up over a tinted silk lining and are trimmed with ribbons to match and lace of an open pattern. The skirt is comparatively plain, having a lace flounce and bows as adornment perhaps, but the bodice is draped and puffed with great elaborateness, flowers occasionally entering into the garniture. A gown of this sort was of deep cream embroidery over blue taffeta and was exceedingly attractive.

The costume of which an illustration is given is of two toned crepon, sky blue and white. The bodice is adorned with two deep points of creu guipure in front, fastened at the top by a choker of golden brown velvet. The blouse bodice has a large yoke-like collar of guipure, which extends beyond the shoulders and has a point falling to the waist in front. The choker, draped collar and belt are of velvet, the plain gigot sleeves being of crepon. The broad hat is of white straw, trimmed with white Mercury wings and large bunches of bright yellow flowers.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

VARIOUS NOTES.

Dressing Gowns, Embroidered Stockings and Wide Neckbands.

Among the new spring novelties are many special designs for dressing gowns. It is rather difficult at the present time to draw a line between a glorified dressing gown and a tea gown and define where one ends and the other begins, so elaborate and handsome are some of the former now being shown.

No wire is used in skirts by good dress-makers or well dressed women. It is better to have no stiffness at all than the angularity that wire affords. Skirts in Paris are less flaring than those worn here, the half-circle extending not more than 12 inches above the hem, as a rule. Better linings are employed generally, however, silk or alpaca taking the place of the cotton fabrics too frequently used here.

The separate bodice fashion is an excuse for all sorts of expensive and fanciful corsets, which are all called by the name of blouse, although one differs from another in glory.

Openwork and embroidered hosiery are seen for use with slippers and low shoes. All colors are shown, but black is always the most becoming to the foot. It is to be desired that white stockings never again be brought into fashion for ordinary wear, since they are not only soiled after half an hour's use, but give the most delicately formed foot an elephantine appearance. Black and bronze set off the foot to the best advantage, although, of course, it is usually best to wear light hosiery matching the shoes for evening occasions.

Wide collars are still in fashion, of guipure, mousseline de soie, gauze, spangled net and lace and washable goods. A sketch is given of various styles in linen and batiste, trimmed with tucks, guipure or embroidery. The high neckband is a feature of all, which makes them rather oppressive for warm weather wear. This neckband is frequently surmounted by a ruche, which increases the discomfort. However, fashion must be obeyed, whoever suffers, and chokers will be worn all summer.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Not Money, but the Want of It.

Mrs. Greene—Is it true, Charles, that Miss Hunter married for money?

Mrs. Greene—I think, my dear, it was owing to want of money.—Boston Transcript.

In the reign of Queen Elizabeth, if bad fish was sold to the poor, the fishmonger was decorated with a necklace of his unsavory commodity, and then perched on a stand in the market.

FOR REVENUE ONLY.

Justified His Hypocrisy by Citing American Examples.

The "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" of the "heathen Chinese" are not exemplified alone in familiarity with the resources of the card sharper's trade. I will acknowledge that my determination to employ Hop Sing as my laundryman was largely influenced by the fact that he conspicuously displayed about his little shop were sundry Christian mottoes, such as "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away; blessed be the name of the Lord;" "He that giveth to the poor, lendeth to the Lord;" "God bless our home," and so on.

From this I inferred that Hop Sing was a brand plucked from the burning. I grew to quite like the fellow, and often had occasion to reproach myself that I fell so far short of his standard of imperturbable good nature and untiring industry. I never doubted the sincerity of his conversion until the other day, when happening to drop in with my weekly bundle of collars and cuffs for the wash, I found him tacking up some chromos of sacred pictures.

"Why, Hop," I said, delighted, "if this thing goes on you will soon be holding a Sunday school class of your own here."

I thought for a moment that I detected Hop in the act of winking his other eye at his companion, but I was probably mistaken.

"No," he replied with an expression of infantile candor, "me no teachee Sunday school; me makee tade good."

"Why," I said, when I comprehended him sufficiently to take in the purport of his answer, "do you mean to say that you put these things simply to attract customers?"

"Allee same likee Melican man," he replied with a grin; "allee same. Melican man takee Chinaman's joss signs, put 'em on tings, make um sell; make um tink Chinaman make em. Why for not Chinaman putte Melican man's joss signs round um shop; makee Melican man feel good; makee Melican man give Chinaman work?"

WOMEN ON SMOKING CARS.

Invading the Reservation Intended for Long-Suffering Men.

A few months ago the Philadelphia street car companies began running smoking cars in response to a popular demand for them. It has been found almost impossible to keep women out of these cars, and, to make matters worse, the smokers, unable to resist the claims of politeness, have been cheerfully surrendering their seats to the women. Things have now got to such a pass that the latter have become masters of the situation. "Day by day," says an observer, "the feminine travel upon the smoking cars has increased. That man is lucky who can now cling to the edges of the car and fondly hope that he may smoke in peace after the long journey is over and he has reached the secluded precincts of his office or home. The women not only claim the smoking cars as their own, but they have begun to stare coldly at such men as now venture timidly into the cars which were prepared especially for them." The question whether the men have a right to smoke in a smoking car in the presence of women has been settled by the latter in the negative, and an offender was actually ejected from one of these cars by a man accompanying an indignant woman. What makes the persistence of the women singular is that the smoking cars are much less comfortable and attractive than those provided for general use. The Philadelphia newspapers are courageously supporting the men in this emergency, and urging them to stand on their rights. "The women," one newspaper makes bold to say, "must yield the cars to the men or they (the women, must learn to smoke."

A Funny Baby.

A Chinese baby that Washingtonians feel much interest in, the small Celestial having first seen the light at the capital, has been following the example of the Western babies, and has posed before the camera, to the great delight, no doubt, of all its admiring female relatives. It presents a very funny appearance, with its little head shorn of the locks which are usually the objects of fondest pride to the mothers of this land, and the only hirsute attachment it supports is a round tuft near the crown of its head, which is the nucleus of a future pigtail, which will no doubt astonish the world. It has at this tender age adopted for its own the childlike and bland expression which is the distinguishing mark of a Chinaman and which enables him always to prove a match for the diplomats of the world.

Burial Customs in Assam.

A curious burial system exists in Assam. All corpses are lowered from the roofs with ropes, it being contrary to the laws of the country to carry a dead body through a door.

Deer in Scotland.

In all, it has been estimated that over 2,000,000 acres are devoted to the maintenance of deer in Scotland, and that about 5,000 stags are annually killed.

but very soon became disgusted, and decided to try S.S.S. The effect was truly wonderful. I commenced to recover after taking the first bottle, and by the time I had taken twelve bottles, I was entirely cured. I was cured by S.S.S. when the world-renowned Hot Springs had failed.

ON LIFE'S LIGHTER SIDE.

Many stories are told of the great frost. One comes from Glasgow, where, says the New Age, an aged clergyman with a cold church and very small congregation touched a chord in every heart by praying, with great frankness and spontaneity: "Oh, Lord, if we had studied our own comfort we would not have been here this morning."

A blacksmith was once summoned to a county court as a witness in a dispute between two of his workmen. The judge, after hearing the testimony, asked him why he did not advise them to settle, as the costs had already amounted to three times the disputed sum. He replied: "I told the fools to settle, for, I said, the clerk would take their coats, the lawyers their shirts, and, if they got into your honor's court you'd skin 'em."

Jack—I have a chance to marry a poor girl whom I love or a rich woman whom I do not love. What would you advise? George—Love is the salt of life, my friend. Without it all else is naught. Love, pure love, makes poverty wealth, pain a joy, earth a heaven. "Enough. I will marry the poor girl, whom I love." Bravely spoken! By the way, would you—er—mind introducing me to the rich woman whom you do not love?—Illustrated Bits.

CONVERSATIONAL LEVITIES.

Newspaper Editor—Juan, take that cat away. I cannot write with the row it is making. Where is it? Juan—Why, sir, you are sitting on it.

First Nighter—What! Every seat taken? Ticket Seller—Every one, but don't be discouraged. There will be room enough after the first act. I was at the rehearsal.

Conductor—That's a Canadian coin, sir; I can't take it. Passenger—The deuce you can't! You gave it to me in change this morning. Conductor—Well, you see, I'm more particular than you are.

Doctor—If you have writer's cramp you will simply have to give your hand a rest. Learn to write with the other one if you can. Caller—It isn't in my hand doctor. It's in my jaw. I dictate to a shorthand man.

MONEY MADE AT HOME.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $235.38; the month before $186.86 and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that ever family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the Perfection, which sells for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co., Station O, Englewood, Ill. I feel convinced that my lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. ALICE O.

SO MANY THINGS I DO FORGET.

So many things I do forget,
And faint would I remember
Bright things, glad things, my footsteps met
Before they touched December,
But the home where my childhood learned its songs,
And the trees where my father set them,
And the brook and the bank where the pine belongs,
I never can forget them.

So many things I do forget,
And faint would I remember,
Bright things, wise things, my footsteps met
Before they touched December,
But the friends of childhood's long ago,
By the mountain shadowed river—
With a fondness light their names shall glow
Forever and forever.

So many things I do forget,
And faint would I remember,
Bright things, sweet things, my footsteps met
Before they touched December,
But the blue of my mother's eyes
And the tears of love that wet them,
And the kisses of one beyond the skies,
I never shall forget them.

So many things I do forget,
Nor with I to remember,
Sad things, hard things, I tell them not
To April or December,
But the lives of the mountain wood,
And the secret things behind them,
Would I forget them if I could,
Forgetting who could find them.

So many things we do forget,
And faint would I remember,
Ere feet that danced the minute
Have walked to slow December,
But the songs that silent lips have sung
Our memories silhouette them,
We sing them over, we are young
And never can forget them.

frost, and unimpaired of me 50 odd years, I undertook to skate 2 miles or so along the frozen Lea. When I returned home, I was tired—tired that scarcely I was seated in my armchair
when I found myself nodding, and undoubtedly I should have fallen asleep had not an exceedingly strange circumstance happened.

To be brief, then, I was lifted from my chair in my home in north London, whirled through space for a couple of hours and then deposited gently but firmly on the moon.

Scarcely had I recovered my breath
when an aged man of venerable aspect, whom I at once recognized as the man in the moon, approached me and inquired my business. I explained that I was an involuntary trespasser on his hospitality, and then, thinking as I was there I might as well learn something about the history of our satellite and its inhabitants—supposing there were any—I proceeded as respectfully as might be to question the old fellow.

"Yes; you are right," he exclaimed in answer to my query as he placed the load of fagots he was carrying on a projecting mass of granite and rested his back against the cone of an extinct volcano. "I have seen a lot of changes in my time. How old am I? Well, I don't know exactly, but it is some millions of years ago since my first birthday."

"Why, bless my heart, when I was a lad, this old dried up moon was as bright and fresh as your earth is now."

"Seas sparkled in the sunlight, brooks gleamed and flashed through the valleys and forests clothed with verdure the mountains now dead and silent. Aye, these were glorious times. The birds sang in the woods from early dawn to nightfall, the fishes leaped and plashed and leaped and plashed again in every eddy and pool of our prehistoric rivers.
Great mammals, some uncouth and some beautiful, but mostly the latter, roamed at will amid the glades of our mighty forests. Then, after a million years or so, man came."

"Man?" I repeated incredulously.

"Yes, man," he reiterated rather testily. "Man, of course. Do you think your earth alone has been the home of man? I tell you he lived and flourished here while the earth was yet formless and void, a vast white hot mass of semi-fluid granite. At first he was weak for lack of knowledge, and fought—often unsuccessfully—with the wild beasts of the forests for food and drink and raiment. Then as he grew older he grew wiser and carved for himself weapons of flint and wood, just as the earth man did a million or two years afterward.
Our lunar men were very clever, too—very clever. Not so large or so strong as terrestrial man, perhaps, but quicker to learn. Why, it did not take us more than 200,000 years to perfect our civilization."

"And what happened then?" was my next query.

"Ah, there you have asked a question hard to answer," quoth the old man sadly. "All I know is that one year there came a blight over all things. It was not exactly a plague. It was rather a want of vitality in the atmosphere that reacted with terrible effect on all animate nature. Man, being the most highly organized of all things living,
was the first to feel its baneful effects,
and he dwindled and pined and finally perished, and the places that had been wont to know him knew him no more forever."

"Then as the sunny atmosphere grew more and more attenuated the mammals first and afterward every form of animal life grew cold and dead. The lowest forms of plant life lingered for a few thousand years longer, until the last drop of water had evaporated into space, in fact, and then they, too, vanished, and the moon was left as you see it today, a dead world, without heat, atmosphere or moisture."

"A sad fate surely, but you must have become resigned," I said soothingly, for the old man was sighing heavily and gazing fixedly into space as though he saw again the lost visions of lone livers he had been describing.

"No, I am not resigned," and he shook his head slowly from side to side.
"Both myself and my sister look forward to better times to come."

"Your sister?" I exclaimed wonder-ingly. "I was not aware of—"

"That I had a sister?" he interrupted.
"Oh, yes, I have, but I forgot! Of course you have never seen her. She lives on the side of the moon opposite to the earth, amid mountains and valleys, upon whose bold outlines no earthly eye has ever gazed. It is by far the best side of the moon, too, but she is getting rather tired of living there and talks rather of changing places with me. I expect you would be rather surprised down below there if some fine day—or night,

rather—you found a woman in the moon instead of a man. Ha, ha, ha!" and forgetful of his recent fit of the blues the old chap gave vent to a hearty guffaw.

"We should indeed," I replied,
laughing in my turn, "although I fancy, unless your sister's appearance differs in a marked degree from your own, that we should scarcely be able to distinguish the difference. You must admit yourself that one must possess good eyesight to tell a man from a woman 240,- 000 miles away."

"Oh, but," answered the old man, with a touch of family pride, "she is a fine woman! Not bent and bowed with age like me. Indeed she is really 6,000,- 000 years younger than am I. Then, of course, she dresses in—in—"

"The habiliments suitable to her sex," I ventured to say.

"Precisely, and, like all the women here, is fond of dress. Why, when I last visited her, some 25,000 years ago, almost her first question was, 'How do the women dress now on the earth?' Of course there wasn't much to tell her because—well, the women of that day didn't trouble themselves much about dress, but I am thinking of paying her another visit soon, and then I shall have a different budget of news for her."

"But tell me," I interrupted, for I was not much interested in the old fellow's sister, "something about the earth. You must have seen almost as great changes in the earth as in the moon."

"Almost," was the answer, "but not quite. My world is cold and dead. You are still alive, as was mine once, and but your turn will come some day, and then we shall both go circling through space, cold, silent and lifeless. But that," he continued, "will be many millions of years from now, almost as many millions as it is since I first set eyes on your planet. Then, as I said before, it was a mere mass of molten matter—a vast white hot ball whirling round the sun and carrying me with it.
I remember as though it were yesterday the first beginning of earthly life. At first the seas covered everything, and beautiful specimens of marine flora floated everywhere upon the surface of the water, while in its translucent depths fishes of strange form and glorious coloring sported themselves. Then the dry land began to appear, and by slow degrees the great forests that shrouded us with a mantle all the earth not covered by the waters. For millions of years what you are pleased to call the lower animals were the only denizens of their squalid depths, and even after man came it was hundreds of thousands of years before he even partially dominated the face of nature."

"But was there not, I asked, 'an ice age?'"

"A what?" he exclaimed, with a puzzled expression of countenance.

"An ice age," I repeated. "A period of time when the ice, which, as you are aware, is always present at the poles, spread northward and southward until it enveloped almost the entire globe."

"Oh, yes," responded mine host,
with the air of a man trying to recall some long forgotten and altogether trivial incident. "I believe something of the kind did happen, and not more than 100,000 or 150,000 years ago either.
But it only lasted about 20,000 years,
and I had quite forgotten all about it until you mentioned it."

This concluded the interview, for although I would have liked to have pursued my inquiries further the old chap suddenly snatched up his bundle, bent his back and resumed his orthodox position, at the same time indicating by a gesture that he was not inclined for any further conversation. "We are right over Greenwich observatory," he explained in answer to my look of surprise, "and I don't want the astronomers there to see me without my bundle and talking to a stranger too. It isn't respectable."—London Amusing Journal.

Paper Money and Disease.

There is no place in the world where more dirty paper money is handled from day to day than in the national bank redemption division of the treasury department. There are in existence some 3,500 national banks, each of which has outstanding bank notes ranging in amount from $10,000 or $12,000 up to nearly $500,000. Every dollar of these notes passes through the hands of the men and women employed in the national bank redemption division.
This office has been in existence now for about 30 years. There are employed in the division somewhere about 25 girls and women. They handle "untold millions" of bills in the course of a year, and if there was any danger from contagious and infectious diseases in old bank notes it would seem as though this would be the place to find symptoms.

Yet Mr. Rogers, who has been chief of the division for ten years, and who has been connected with it since it was organized, assured the correspondent that there has never been a case of infectious or contagious disease contracted by one of the employees of his office.
Every one of them handles the bills sent in for redemption. They are counted and sorted time after time. They are the dirtiest specimens of money to be found in the country.—Rochester Post-Express.

Looking Forward to the Chase.

"You ought to take some rest," said
the sympathetic friend. "Can't you go fishing or something like that?"

"Well," replied Mr. Weary, "I'm going duck hunting pretty soon."

"Where?"

"Up on F street. My wife has seen a duck of a bonnet that I have to go in pursuit of."—Washington Star.

The waiter had their orders. "Dearest," he whispered, "do you really mean it when you say you will be mine?" She was a bit impatient. "Fitz Maurice," she replied, "did I not just this moment say plain stew when I might have said terrapin?" That was certainly conclusive.—Detroit Tribune.

A Fine Profession.

A smile of joy lit up the countenance of Mr. Hobnails as he entered his home after his day's work. "I have received a letter from our darling boy, Harry," he said to his wife, "and his fortune's made."

"Oh, John!" said Mrs. Hobnails, "has he gone into business for himself?" "No—he's smarter than that!" said her husband, exultingly.

"He's been speculating?"

"Better than that."

"Or got hold of a gold mine?"

"Pshaw, no! He's been appointed as a friendly receiver."—Chicago Record.

Last Straw.

"Are you the man that answers the questions?" inquired the visitor.

"I wish you'd tell me," rejoined the other, "in order to settle a bet, whether there's any more miles in an Epworth league than in the common, ordinary—"

At this point the newspaper man made an almost imperceptible movement with his foot, and the long-unused trap-door on which the caller happened to be standing opened downward.

Another World's Record Broken.

San Francisco, Cal. May 14.—Frank M. Byrne of the Imperial Bicycle club has broken the world's road record for five miles. He made it in 12:13 1-5. J. E. Edwards rode the distance in 12:13 2-5. The previous record was 12:15.

Pneumatic Boots.

The pneumatic principle has been applied to boots. The air tubes lie between the upper and lower soles, and give a springy movement to the foot calculated to reduce friction with the ground and to alleviate fatigue.

High Priced Autographs.

At an autograph sale in Paris in December, 1890, the signature of Christopher Columbus (which is, probably, one of the most fantastic sign manuals ever used) brought 4,000 francs, says an exchange. The only existing piece of manuscript in Titian's handwriting was knocked down at 3,000 francs, and one with Cromwell's signature attached brought in exactly half that sum. Alfred Morrison, a great English collector of autographs, was present at the sale and paid a sum equal to 4,000 francs for the only letter written by Napoleon to the Empress Marie Louise which has ever been on the market. The last letter written by Napoleon to the Empress Marie Louise was disposed of at the same sale, bringing 4,000 francs, and several signatures of Louis XIV. and Henry IV. fetched 1,000 francs each.
